++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Brighter for a time but further rain arriving today.

Today:
Largely dry at first with some morning sunshine. However, soon clouding over, with rain arriving in the west by lunchtime, spreading to remaining parts of Wales through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
A wet start to this evening but soon becoming drier with clear spells and scattered showers overnight. Breezy around coasts but chillier with a local frost in sheltered inland areas. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
Bright with sunshine and a few short-lived blustery showers, these briefly heavy with a little hail possible and perhaps wintry over the highest ground. Feeling cold in brisk north-westerly winds. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Cold at first on Saturday, but turning mild and cloudy with rain spreading east. Patchy rain on Sunday with a chance of heavier rain on Monday. Staying mild.
